

JAPANESE CULTURAL CENTER OF HAWAII

Annual Report 2012-2013

Honoring our heritage. Embracing our diversity. Sharing our future.

Dear Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai'i ohana:

The year 2011–2012 was described as a year of change and transition. For the 2012–2013 year, we describe JCCH as “coming together and moving forward!”

We kicked off the fiscal year in the Governor’s office celebrating the signing of Senate Bill 2678 creating the State Advisory Committee on Honouliuli. JCCH’s educational efforts on Hawai’i’s confinement sites continued with film screenings and the release of the documentary film The Untold Story: Internment of Japanese Americans in Hawai’i on O’ahu, Maui, Hawai’i and Kaua’i. Additional support from the State of Hawai’i allowed us to develop a curriculum guide to accompany the film and support its distribution to high schools throughout the state. But our educational efforts were not limited to high schools and Honouliuli. Support from Kristi Yamaguchi’s Always Dream Foundation expanded opportunities for O’ahu schools, and more than 4,000 elementary school children visited JCCH to learn Japanese cultural activities.

We were in the community—participating in the Honolulu Festival, Okinawan Festival, Mō’ili’ili Summer Festival and we were honored to host Yuji Sasaki, nephew of Sadako Sasaki, in Honolulu during International Peace Day at the World War II Valor in the Pacific National Monument. Our partnership continued with the National Park Service, Bishop Museum, KZOO Radio, NGN, and the Honolulu Theater for Youth. Our Community Gallery also served as a gathering place with the Pride of Hawai’i exhibit honoring Japanese American athletes and the beautiful exhibit curated by George and Willa Tanabe, Approaching the Sacred: Japanese Buddhist Temples in Hawai’i. We introduced new events such as Inspired Foods with Chef Alan Wong and writer Arnold Hiura and launched a summer series of cultural classes.

We ended the year poised for further success with a 7% increase in membership, state funding for capital improvements to the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai’i, and new grant funds to support our educational programs in the next year. Thank you for being a part of our success—we look forward to seeing you at the Japanese Cultural Center of Hawai’i in the coming year.
